

Arrogant Bastard

This is for those who think I might be one; I'd like to remove all doubt.

But, I am not so, intentionally.

My intent is to save the world and I know how to do it. There is nothing in the world more important than what I know.

How's that for an "exaggerated self-importance" Bastard, I'm not talking about lacking paternal claim.

Nothing you have is sacred to me, if you're wrong, I'll tell you why, period. I'll ignore you if you're spouting dogma. My Understanding is the only thing that is important.

Sounds like a Bastard to me.

Ahhh... confession, my soul is better now, Right?

I KNOW, that We the human race of Earth, are OF God. I'm trying real hard to share an Understanding that will allow us access to our potential.

This is what I'm about; this is all that I'm about. I might be crazy, if that's what you believe and you don't want to hear my raving please stay away. I will not come after you and attack you personally, because I don't understand you.

Because you do not understand, and even if I am crazy, that doesn't make me wrong.

If you have a similar idea or understanding, or seek clarification of a statement, I'll give full effort to connecting our meanings.
