

Gravity

That brings us down to Earth, the part of physical creation most important and the mother of Life as we know it. Gravity is the attraction of physical mass by heavenly bodies, and in the big picture the attraction between heavenly bodies that causes orbits. In the micro picture it is the force flowing into the infinite center of the basic elements that create our universe.

It is a flow into micro infinity from macro infinity. There is only one infinity, let's call it God.

Creation is a circle from and back to God with Gravity as "direction" into the physical world.
