

Revelation for Sale

I have claimed it comes from God and say I figured it out with genius intellect.

It doesn't matter where it came from or how it got here, I have It.

It is on a line following Galileo's of the universe and Einstein's of relativity.

Like Galileo saw the universe and Einstein saw relativity, I see Society.

Do you think either of those guys ever questioned themselves about the truth of their claims? I can tell you without a doubt, they did, and they asked themselves if they were going crazy. Then they looked at their revelation again and went back to face the masses.

Galileo was nearly killed for his efforts and Einstein was thought of as a nut case for most of his life.

The truth is, this Revelation has me. I wouldn't put myself through this aggravation. I can imagine Einstein saying to his Revelation, after the blast at Hiroshima, "They'll understand now, Can I rest?"

The Revelation of Society

It is a "thing" in my mind. Any time I'm not otherwise occupied and even sometimes when I am it claims, or it possesses my attention.

I did open the door for it to come in, I confess, I asked all these questions about Society in a seeking state of mind. I think what happened was my directing of so much inquiry to a specific interest started a flow of information.

Others have surely devoted more time and inquiry to Society than I have, and equaled or surpassed the flow of knowledge from that source. Why me?

Odds.

Time and perspective clicked on me, I won the big picture of Society. Damn it, I'd rather have hit the lottery.

Not really, this is a fantastic "thing". Its value is greater than the sum of all lotteries with the hopes and dreams of every bet included.

How to describe It? In the neighborhood of thought It gets involved in the thinking process, It leads or directs the thinking process. It has the blueprints and specifications for Society and directs my thinking process concerning Society with the prints and specs to the desired information.

It is a Revelation, that's why they have a name for It. The explanation you get from a dictionary refers to the unexplainable God.

They come in all sizes and for every occasion. I got the one that is about the "direction" of Society, size XXXX.

I have an understanding of the "direction" of Society and a plan that will effect a change in its "direction".

For the price of one billion dollars I will deliver Paradise to Earth.

It's guaranteed, it is a Revelation.
